THE CHURCHES CONSERVATION TRUST

Times and Seasons (Voices in Harmony) presented "A Summer Serenade" at All Saints Church, East Horndon on Saturday 11th June 2011 at 7:30pm.

The Church was completely full with a keen audience and anticipation was high.

The chamber choir sang a beautiful and varied programme of songs from the last 3 centuries - old, new, folk, classical, even some delightfully comical pieces. All songs were unaccompanied and equally exquisite. It was the perfect and most fitting tribute to this ancient Tudor church.

Refreshments were provided, and guests mingled and chatted during the interval, but when the last piece was sung, no one wanted this night to end.

The retiring collecting raised a fantastic £300 for the Friends of All Saints Church who are raising funds to buy an electronic door locking system so the church can be open all year round to the general public.

Our thanks go to David Bayley, the conductor for over 25 years, for putting together this amazing programme and we do hope the Choir will be back next year to open the season. What a treat!

The chamber choir's next concert is at St Mary's Shenfield on October 8th 2011. Don't miss it!

Thank you for continuing support!
